

This memorial is dedicated to the life of

CHARLES V.
FAUST

Born in Marion, KS,
Oct. 9, 1880. Charley was the first of six children of John and Eva Faust. Raised on the family farm, Charley became convinced in 1911 that he was destined to pitch the New York Giants to the championship. He joined them and became their good-luck charm and mascot as they won almost every game, inspired to the National League pennant
by his cheerful enthusiasm and dedication. He made his major league pitching debut on Oct. 7, 1911. He pitched one inning that day and another inning on Oct. 12, 1911, allowing only one run. He returned to the Giants for part of 1912, helping them to an amazing 54-11 start and second straight pennant.
His perseverance in reaching the record books has inspired baseball fans and historians ever since.

DONATED IN SEPTEMBER OF 2007 BY DAVID J. STALKER, ARCHIE MONUMENTS, GABRIEL SCHECHTER, ERIC SALLEE, PAUL ESACOVE, DAN GINSBURG, R.J. LESCH AND TOM SIMON

This memorial is dedicated to the life of
CHARLES V.
FAUST

Born in Marion, KS,
Oct. 9, 1880. Charley was the first of six children
of John and Eva Faust. Raised on the family farm, Charley became convinced in 1911 that he was destined to pitch the New York Giants to the championship. He joined them and became their good-luck charm and mascot as they won almost
every game, inspired to the National League pennant
by his cheerful enthusiasm and dedication. He made his major league pitching debut on Oct. 7, 1911. He pitched one inning that day and another inning on Oct. 12, 1911, allowing only one run. He returned to the Giants for part of 1912, helping them to an amazing 54-11 start and second straight pennant.
His perseverance in reaching the record books has
inspired baseball fans and historians ever since.

DONATED IN SEPTEMBER OF 2007 BY
DAVID J. STALKER, ARCHIE MONUMENTS, GABRIEL SCHWITZEL, ERIC HALLER, PAUL KRACOVY, DAN SIMSUNG, R.J. LESCH AND TOM SIMON

