CITY OF RACINE, WISCONSIN

Whereas: we recognize the immense importance and critical role of election administration teams, election office staff, poll workers, and volunteers who work long hours to ensure the right to vote safely and securely is maintained; and

Whereas: amidst all of the challenges, these workers – including those with experience and those stepping up for the first time – interact with hundreds of voters as they access their ballots; and

Whereas: making adjustments to election administration, educating the public, and recruiting and training poll workers has required long hours and creativity by our city's election staff; and

Whereas: in order to recognize the heroic efforts of election administrators, poll workers, and volunteers, the City of Racine urges voters, businesses, organizations, public officials, and all candidates for public office to join in celebrating and thanking these individuals.
