Re: Fitness center reimbursement

In 2005 and 2006 the City of Racine paid membership fees only to the YMCA. The amount paid was approximately $39,000. This included retirees and part time employees. In 2007, the reimbursement was changed to include all fitness centers up to a maximum of $200 per family. The employee needed to be active, full time and carry the city health plan. The approximate amount paid was $22,500.

Attached is a recommendation from the City of Racine Wellness Committee for a change to the fitness club reimbursement for 2008.
